

Changes for UML:

- We deleted task controller and task service because they are worthless/useless
- Because they duplicate objects of Task and columns.
- Added functionality for task control via board controller and Column object.
- Added Data access layer
 - objects DTO : are created from abstract class defining the db columns of each object in DB and see in the uml
 - DTO Controller: defining the db queries and task management